BOVRIL AT THE FRONT.
Bovril has played such a conspicuous part in South Africa that it forms an indispensable feature of the story. The 'Lancet' has had frequent references to Bovril in the reports of the officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps. Nearly every newspaper correspondent has had to refer to Bovril to make his story complete. Rudyard Kipling and Baden Powell have written their Bovril stories. Over 500 British hospitals and similar public institutions use and prescribe Bovril, not beef tea, but Bovril.
The reason is not far to seek. Bovril is a nourisher as well as a stimulant. It contains the albumen and fibrine, the sustaining properties of the beef. It is this fact, together with its absolute purity, that commands Bovril to physicians and scientists, and proves in practice what it demonstrates in analysis.
To be obtained at all STAMPS, CHINESE, HONGKONG, &c., throughout Hongkong, China and Japan. 963

THE THEORY OF THUNDER-STORMS.

No generally-accepted theory of thunderstorms has as yet been built up. In special cases we come, perhaps, near the real conditions. Thus, Michie Smith has made a very plausible suggestion as to the origin of the sheet lightning often observed inland from Madras. There the dusty land breeze, charged positively by the salt spray, meet. The discharges on entering our atmosphere. This may appear far-fetched; but we must, at any rate, remember that swarms of meteors are quite as common as thunderstorms. The most thorough attempt at a theory of thunderstorms is contained in Solmecke's 'Gewitterstudien,' published at Munich in 1894. Thunderstorms, the author argues, are produced by the friction between ice and liquid water in the high strata.—Engineering.

the clays of psychological beliefs have been the work of science—a materialist ego. The darkness of ignorance and superstition is giving way to the clarifying light of modern science—the theory of facts. Modern science has revealed that the best medicinal oil is cod liver oil. It has divided this oil into distinct parts—one the clarified oil; another, a mass of certain semi-solid substances, known as extractives. This oil is naturally different from other fixed oils and has little or no medicinal value. The extractives, however, are decidedly active, and the conclusion cannot be avoided that the presence of these active principles cod liver oil owes its reputation as a remedy. No other oil has been so extensively used and so long held in a reputation. The extractives hold the solution to cod liver oil that quinine, strychnine, creosote, cinchona bark. They are the active essence of cod liver oil. When taken as they may be freed from the vile, unnecessary oil, their curative value is fully revealed. "The Health and Vigour of an individual depend upon the quantity and quality of the Blood. When the tissues have been at work, there are thrown into the blood, waste products, and if these are not eliminated but (through any cause) retained in the blood they influence nutrition and function and finally produce organic diseases."—The Humanitarian. THE KING'S PROGRESS.

London, July 2, 1902.

The bulletin issued at ten this morning says that His Majesty has passed another excellent night, and that he is making steady progress in all respects. The wound is much less troublesome.

LATE.

This evening's bulletin says that the same steady progress in His Majesty's condition is maintained. The local pain is less, and the days are passed in greater comfort. The wound is beginning to heal.

SOUTH AFRICA.

The Return of Troops.

Of 202,000 British troops in South Africa at the conclusion of hostilities, 70,000 are due to be brought home. To convey these troops, 39 transports, providing accommodation for 40,000 men, will shortly be engaged, and in addition 2,500 men will be conveyed weekly as passengers in the ordinary liners.

CORONATION ITEMS.

London, June 29.

A hopeful feeling is taking the place of the prevailing despondency with regard to His Majesty King Edward's condition. The street demonstrations have nearly been removed, but the illumination devices have been allowed to stand evidently in the expectation of celebrating His Majesty's recovery. The Naval Review may possibly be held next week, although most of the Foreign warships which should have participated in it have gone. Ideal summer weather prevails.

Great anxiety is felt in shipping circles regarding the re-transportation of the large foreign element in London to their respective homelands. The fact that the majority travelled on round-trip tickets places the steamship companies in a rather awkward position, especially as a great majority of the visitors are people of moderate means, and can ill afford the very enforced, upon them by the unfortunate illness of His Majesty King Edward.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

If ever we in Hongkong are tempted to think that we are entirely disinterested and apart from the Empire at whose borders we live, incidents like the one reported to-day from Canton will dispel all such dangerous delusions and reveal to us the true state of affairs. Through our great Chinese population, we are, whether we like it or not, always in the closest touch with the mainland. It will be interesting to watch how the development of the Kowloon Hinterland will affect this question. It may alter the place where the contact is felt, but it cannot in the nature of things remove it. In Dr. Eitel's 'History of Hongkong' he has some remarks bearing on the small influence Hongkong had, up to the time of his writing, exercised on China. Later experience would seem to suggest that when that opinion was formed it was not altogether exact, and that the time had scarcely arrived for coming to so strong a view of Hongkong's relation to the mainland. We believe Hongkong will exercise an ever increasing influence in South China. Within the last few days, we have seen a discovery of first-rate importance. The Canton press is gagged, and at present is of but little use in forming public opinion. But what the Canton Chinese papers cannot do, their contemporaries in Hongkong can do, and as we learn from the Nan Hoi magistrate, can do most effectively. A splendid field of usefulness is thus opened up for our brethren of the Chinese newspapers. Let them place before themselves a high ideal, never stooping to personalities, and they will then play no unimportant part in building up the China that is to be.

Melba Coming East.
It is stated that Madame Melba, accompanied by Madame Davis, the well-known vocalist and her husband, the equally celebrated flautist, will visit the Far East in the early autumn, and probably give a series of concerts in connection with the Hanoi Exhibition. It is to be hoped the party will come on to Hongkong.

Attempted Suicide.
Tired of the cares and worries of this life, a servant boy named Man Fuk attempted to commit suicide at No. 72, Macdonell Road, Kowloon, yesterday. He was prevented from committing the rash deed, and, at the Magistrate's, to-day, Mr Hazeland bound him over in a personal bond of $100 to come up for sentence when called upon to do so.

Auction of Machinery.
We would call attention to the auction of sundry naval and victualling obsolete and condemned stores by Messrs Hughes and Hough on Wednesday and Thursday next, at H.M. Naval Yard. Local engineering shops will have an opportunity of picking up some useful machinery which is said to be in good condition.

Independence Day.
The 'glorious fourth' was celebrated in the usual happy fashion by our American cousins to-day. There were several American ships in the Harbour, the crews of which came ashore and are having a good time. The men-of-war and other ships are gayly decorated with bunting, and, at noon, a salute was fired in honour of the occasion. At some of the local American offices the Stars and Stripes and the British Ensign were displayed side by side.

Shanghai Mixed Court.
Our German contemporary at Shanghai published the following on the 1st inst:—The proposals regarding the powers of the French and International Mixed Courts have now been approved by the Diplomatic Corps at Peking. The Taoist of Shanghai having agreed to the proposals, the matter has now been declared officially authorised, therefore the Municipal Council will be notified of the fact to-day.

Sausages.
The man who ruined a sausage-maker's trade by walking into his shop with a sackful of dead cats and dumping the contents down on the counter has, according to a Liverpool contemporary, a rival in the person of a London waiter. The latter worthy, being asked by a customer for sausages, replied that there were none left; but, being of an obliging disposition, he went on to say that if the gentleman did not mind waiting some should be obtained for him—meaning, of course, that they should be sent out for. The customer having signified his willingness to wait, the waiter proceeded to the culinary department to give the necessary instructions, but on arriving there he had the misfortune to step on the tail of a dog which belonged to one of the kitchen attendants. The injured animal immediately let out a series of agonised yelps, whereupon the customer being evidently a man of imaginative mind, turned pale and left the restaurant hurriedly.

The Linkin Question.
A correspondent writes from 'North-West' to the N.C. Daily News:—I see that commercial men are deluding themselves with the hope that if they pay 15 per cent duty at the ports the barriers in the interior will be closed. The ingenious methods adopted are exquisite! When a Russian trader went to Lanchow in Szechuan, some years ago, he paid customs at Szechuan, and after he had disposed of his stock in a year or two the native traders and shopkeepers were forced to report their purchases by showing their books to a deputy, and they were each taxed at the discretion of the Deputy, even if they were not fined for dealing with the foreigner. A written receipt should be given for every amount received by officials and their underlings so that their squeezes may be traced.

A SEVERE SPRAIN.
USUALLY disables the injured person for three or four weeks. Cures have often been effected in less than one week by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This liniment has great healing powers. One application gives relief. Try it. For sale by All Dealers; WATKINS Ltd., General Agents.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Notes by the Way.
The grave-looking man isn't always a dead one.

The Crown Prince of Japan has now two sons and four daughters.

The Freemasons' Grand Lodge of England has sent in all £10,337 to South Africa for the relief of loyal Brethren who have suffered from the war.

Cholera has found its way to Hankow. There are numerous deaths among the Chinese, and there have been at least two cases and one death among the foreign population.

Instructions have been issued for the breaking up of a quantity of American and German-made 303 ammunition taken back to India by Corps returning from China, as it proves liable to injure the allies.

The University of Pootung, under President Punney, is already at work with upwards of 120 students (writes a correspondent). A teacher of English in each prefectural city is one of the next steps proposed. This course will serve to give prospective students a start in English which they will use at the Central University.

The N.C. Daily News of the 30th ult. says:—There was a large assembly at the P. & O. jetty on Saturday morning to bid farewell, amongst others, to General Dorward, and to Mr W. J. Gresson. The former leaves us for good, much to the regret of many Shanghai residents, but we hope to see Mr Gresson amongst us again before very long, fully restored to good health and strength.

A Record Shoot.
Yesterday-afternoon, Mr D. Baldwin and Mr J. Parkes, of Kowloon Ducks, went over the 200, 500 and 600 yards range at Kowloon for practice. Mr Baldwin, who is one of the best local marksmen, finished up with the fine total of 104 out of a possible 105. The range scores were:—200 yards, 34; 500 yards, 35; 600 yards, 35. This, we believe, is a new record for Hongkong. Mr Parkes, a promising shot for interport honours, had a total of 91—30, 30, 31.

Tamba Maru Aground.
Yesterday, the N. Y. K. S.S. Tamba Maru grounded while leaving Hongkong for the North, on a sandbank a little beyond the Police Pier. After being aground for an hour and three-quarters, she floated off with the rising tide at 2.45 p.m. No damage was sustained, and no assistance was required, and the vessel resumed her voyage to Japan. We understand that this is not the first time such a mishap has occurred here, and the harbour authorities may now have to consider the advisability of dredging the bank.

Strange Behaviour of a Constable.
At the Magistrate's to-day, Thomas Black, constable in the Naval Yard Police, was charged with assaulting a ricksha driver yesterday. He engaged the ricksha puller near Gough Street, and drove to the Hongkong Hotel. On coming out of the Hotel, defendant took the nearest ricksha, and was about to drive off when the complainant naturally interfered. The defendant then jumped out of the ricksha and struck complainant over the head with his stick. The Magistrate (Mr Kemp) ordered Black to pay a fine of $7, and pay $1 compensation.

A Case of Razors.
To-day, as the Magistrate, Detective Sergeant J. J. Watt charged Wong Chi and Li Shing, accountants of No. 259 Queen's Road Central, with the unlawful possession of 25 razors, reasonably suspected of having been stolen. The other day, Mr K. Oldrup, Manager, Hamburg-America Line, reported to the police that a case containing 62 dozen razors consigned to Messrs Rudecker and Co., commission agents, per s.s. Silvia, had disappeared. Sergeant Watt discovered some half-dozen of what appeared to resemble the missing articles in a shop in Taipingshan, the proprietor of which said he bought them from another shop. The inquiries resulted in the arrest of the accountants named. The case was remanded till Tuesday.

The China Medal.
Replying to a question, not requiring an answer, by Mr John Hutton, as to when it is intended to issue medals to the remainder of the officers and seamen employed in the late operations in China, the Secretary of the Admiralty says:—The issue of these medals is being proceeded with as rapidly as possible, and orders have been given to the home ports, the marine divisions, the Channel and cruiser squadrons, and the Mediterranean Fleet to furnish lists of those entitled to the medals in return for their issue before the Coronation. A gratuity will be granted to the naval and marine and Colonial naval forces employed in these operations as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. The amount and probable date of payment cannot be stated at present.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The New Water Bill.
We understand that the new Water Bill, which was down for consideration at the next meeting of the Legislative Council, will probably be withheld. It may therefore be presumed that the Government intends to revise some of the proposals contained therein.

Plague on the English Mail.
There were six cases of plague reported in the Colony during the 24 hours ended noon to-day, bringing the total for the year up to 400. One case was that of an Indian, who died on board the P. and O. s.s. Valetta, at Kowloon Wharves. The other cases were all Chinese, two of them having been 'dumped.'

Ho got 'Socks.'
A pair of socks, the property of Mr J. P. Cottam, disappeared the other day, and were found in possession of Chea Tan Fat, servant boy, Amoy Lane. Chea was charged at the Magistrate's to-day, in the instance of Mr Godwin, who is in Mr Cottam's employ, and was sentenced to suffer six weeks' hard labour.

P. and O. Mail Quarantined.
The P. and O. Mail steamer Valetta, which arrived in Hongkong yesterday with the mails from Europe, reported a considerable amount of sickness on board on the way up, and this morning she was ordered into quarantine. The mails for Shanghai and the north were put on board the S.S. Lennox this afternoon, at Kowloon Wharf. The T. K. K. America Maru, with mails on board, also went into quarantine on her arrival this morning.

THE KING'S HEALTH.

Telegram from Secretary of State.

Last night, Hon. F. H. May, C.M.G., Colonial Secretary, sent to us the following official telegram dated London, 3rd July, to the Governor of Hongkong from the Secretary of State, for publication, viz:—

"His Majesty the King reported to be making steady progress in every respect. The wound, the dressing of which has at times caused considerable pain, is now much less troublesome and began immediately to heal. His Majesty's courage and patience have called for the greatest admiration. The Queen has been in constant attendance in the sick-room, where utmost quiet is enforced. His Majesty seeing no correspondence and being approached on no affairs of State or business. I do not propose to telegraph again unless any important change occurs."

CANTON NEWS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Canton, July 3.

The scheme for a Provincial Military College is still on the boards. The Viceroy has drawn up a set of rules, and submitted them to the military mandarins for their consideration. Particulars have not yet been made public.

The Yik Tsai Shu Shu, or Kadoorie School, has made a good beginning. Being a free school, it has attracted a large number of scholars; indeed, many more than the accommodation. The foreign teachers are assigned to the scholars who have already acquired some knowledge of English. The Chinese think that foreigners do not care to go through the drudgery of the first stages of a Chinaman's study of English—which erroneous thought proves that they do not understand the first principles of education. The real place for the foreigner is in the beginning, the middle and the end; but if the staff is insufficient to allow this—then by all means let the foreign teacher and not the Chinese be entrusted with the first two years at least.

The proposal to establish a middle school or preparatory department in connection with the Provincial University (Kwong Nga Shu Chai) shows that the educational reform, as far as the upper classes of the Chinese are concerned, is going on satisfactorily. The education of the people is in such a backward state that nothing but the most extraordinary efforts of some master mind can deal with this question, which, in its way, is not a whit less important than that of the classes. I hear that a military exercise ground inside the city has been assigned for the building of this new school. A wealthy Chinaman has given a donation of $50,000. The scheme has been entrusted to the Kwong Chai Prefect, who is an enlightened man with liberal ideas.

The examination for the San Tai or first degree is now in progress. This being the first examination since the abolition of the old style of essay writing, the examiner must have found some difficulty in getting on the questions. I append one question as an example:

"What, in your opinion, is the best way of policing this city, and how would you propose to raise the money for that purpose? Would it do to appropriate the funds of the temples or the money usually spent on 'all-sole' festivals, and what do you suppose would be the attitude of the people to such a course?"

THE SAN HOI MAESTRATE AND THE HONGKONG NATIVE PRESS.

For a long time, the Hongkong Chinese newspapers have commented fully, and sometimes very freely, on the doings of mandarins. The action of the San Hoi magistrate and the military mandarin charged with the protection of the passengers, in demanding what the Viceroy has declared to be very much more than a fair share of the earnings of these boats, led to a serious dispute, and an interruption of the traffic. Both officials concerned were condemned, and that fact did not by any means cause the newspapers in question to alter their tone. Some very judicious friend of the San Hoi magistrate has made it his business to collect all these articles and forward them for his edification. The magistrate was enraged on seeing his name taken in vain, and, through the British Consul, has appealed to the Governor of Hongkong to order the closing of the offices of the Wai Tsai Yat Po and the Chung Kwo Yat Po for five days, as a punishment. He further supports his plea by saying that when a similar request was made to him by foreign Consuls to suppress one of the Canton dailies that had been abusing foreigners, he immediately complied. All that he has got for his pains is the knowledge that on British soil editors have the right to discuss the action of officials in other words than the Press is free. This may be very useful information, but it contains the least bit of the nature of comfort. In Canton, the Press is free for a reason that needs no explanation. It is alleged that the editors of the two papers named above were summoned to the office of the Protector of the Chinese in Hongkong and there advised as to the best method of conducting their papers so as not to give offence and unnecessary offence.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE LAND PERFORMANCES.

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."
Hongkong, July 4.

Sir,—I read with interest your correspondent's letter in last night's issue re the land performances, and it brought to my mind an advertisement I saw in a Hongkong newspaper a few days ago to the effect that the band of the Duke of Wellington's Regiment would, during the rainy season, give their performances in the Public Hall—a change of 4 annas being charged to cover the cost of occupying the hall, people requested not to bring children on account of the disturbances they frequently cause. Could not the concert, the pleasure of which we have missed recently on account of rain, have taken place in the City Hall under similar conditions?—Yours, etc.

BANDSMAN.

THE PORT OF HONGKONG.

The Secretary of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce sends us the following report for publication:—

Hongkong, 10th June, 1902.

"Sir,—As requested by the Committee of the General Chamber of Commerce we have considered the question of licensing the pilots at this port, and in this connection have had before us the following letters:—

Hongkong, and Kowloon, 1st May, 1902. Chamber of Commerce to the Hon. the Colonial Secretary, dated 9th May.

The Hon. the Colonial Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce dated 10th May.

We have to place before the Committee our views on this subject.

1. A considerable demand exists and has existed for years for pilots at this port, more particularly for the purpose of berthing steamers at the wharves of the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd. Chamber of Commerce to the Hon. the Colonial Secretary, dated 9th May.

The Hon. the Colonial Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce dated 10th May.

We have to place before the Committee our views on this subject.

2. A considerable demand exists and has existed for years for pilots at this port, more particularly for the purpose of berthing steamers at the wharves of the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd. Chamber of Commerce to the Hon. the Colonial Secretary, dated 9th May.

The Hon. the Colonial Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce dated 10th May.

We have to place before the Committee our views on this subject.

3. Up to the present this work has been carried on by Chinese who in the past were all or nearly all well known men possessed of the requisite knowledge and capable of handling the class of vessels then visiting the port.

4. While all vessels do not make use of Chinese pilots, many Commanders find it an advantage to have a man on board with local knowledge as to the state of the tides, currents, and the position of the various ships in harbour.

5. With the increasing number and size of the vessels now visiting Hongkong, there is a corresponding increase in the need for a sufficient number of qualified men to act as Pilots.

6. The other class of Chinese pilots are, through progression of time, disappearing, and their place is being taken by men not possessing the requisite knowledge for the work now demanded of them.

7. A few of the Shipping Companies are able to employ suitable men, but many Commanders are obliged on arrival at the entrance of the harbour to take the first man who boards his ship without having any means of knowledge whether he is capable of handling the vessel properly.

8. The risk of loss of life and property which may result from the improper handling of a vessel is too well understood to require discussion. We are strongly of the opinion that the Government has already been expressed by the General Committee of the Chamber of Commerce that the time has now arrived when the pilots in this port should be put under proper Government control, or at least be brought into the class of Masters and Engineers of steam launches.

9. We do not propose that pilots should be compulsory, but our suggestion is that one, native or foreigner, should be allowed to act as pilot inside Hongkong waters for any vessel (other than native sailing craft) unless he holds a certificate of competency from the Harbour Master.

10. The certificate to be issued yearly, to bear the photograph of the holder, with other necessary information. The certificate to be produced when asked for on boarding a vessel.

11. We would suggest that the fee for certificate should be a nominal one, say $20 for first certificate and $5 a year for renewal.

12. No limit to be placed on the number of licenses issued. The question of limiting licenses arises from the pilots into a regular associated body can be considered at a later day if found desirable.

13. As Masters of vessels visiting this port have hitherto engaged unlicensed pilots, we would suggest that should it be decided in future to issue licenses to pilots, a notice to this effect be inserted in the Harbour Regulations for the information of the Masters of vessels.

14. In the event of any complaint being made against a certificated pilot, the Harbour Master to hold an inquiry into the matter, and to have the power to punish the pilot if found guilty of the charge brought against him.

15. The complaints which should be investigated to be those of carelessness, or incompetency in navigation, insolence to the officers of the ship or officers of the Harbour Department, drunkenness or any other acts of misdemeanour which may militate against the efficient carrying out of a pilot's duties.

16. The persons who will have the power to take the Harbour Master to enquire into the conduct of any pilot should be:—

The Officers of the Harbour Department and Water Police.

The Master or owners of the vessel on which the pilot is engaged.

The Master or owners of any other vessel or any person whose property may have been injured for even a moment through the action of the pilot.

17. The Harbour Master should have the power to punish a pilot found guilty of misconduct or improper navigation by the infliction of fines or by the temporary suspension or cancellation of his certificate.

18. A pilot whose certificate is absolutely cancelled should not on any further occasion obtain another certificate.

19. In making these suggestions it is not intended that the Colonial Government in any way accept any responsibility in issuing certificates. The examination and control of the pilots to be merely an executive function such as is carried out in Great Britain by the Board of Trade or the Trinity House. We have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servants,

(Sd.) E. A. BEWELL,

To A. R. Lowe, Esq., Secretary, Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce.

For the past quarter of a century there has been one continuous flow of letters bearing testimony to the truly wonderful cures effected by Clarke's Blood Purifier. The medicine is sold by all druggists and chemists, and is also sold by the proprietors at 2s. 6d. per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

GOLF.

A Championship at Shanghai.

In reporting the caddies' championship for 1902 at Shanghai, the N. C. Daily News says:—

It is no exaggeration to say that the match played yesterday excited more interest than any event which has been played on the local links. From a very early hour the caddies, dressed in their white coats, commenced to assemble, and from the babel which went on it was evident that speculation was rife as to who should be declared champion. The conditions were one round of the ladies' course, to be played with iron clubs in the presence of a foreign umpire. The last named condition was deemed advisable in view of the general character of the Chinese, to which it was not to be expected a golf caddy would prove an exception.

It is only fair to state, however, that the small competitors appeared to be imbued with a true golfing spirit and really the amount of skill displayed by some of them, to say nothing of the 'Vardon' style, called for a considerable amount of comment from the spectators.

It was generally thought that any caddy returned under 60 would win, but as will be seen from the scores below, the play proved of a higher standard than was anticipated.

Drives of 125 to 150 yards were not uncommon and other branches of play were equally good. It was noticeable that the caddies, while proving themselves perfectly capable of imitating the style of some of the regular players, were also capable of acquiring some of their expressions, especially those following a 'foolish' shot. On the other hand one competitor, whose ball dropped in a particularly bulky manner on one of the greens, remarked 'Velly Backy.'

Mr. Li Sung, who returned the best card, was disqualified, as it transpired that he was not strictly speaking a caddy belonging to the Club, and Mr. Li Sung (commonly known as 'Lally Lally') was adjudged the winner. After all the cards had been returned, the competitors were stood in order of merit in the pavilion and entered, to the amusement of the spectators, the following list of cards returned:—
